Stevenson Keppelman Associates welcomes Andrew W. Stumpff to its Ann Arbor office. He was previously a partner of the New York firm of Davis Polk & Wardwell, where he focused on the employee benefits aspects of corporate mergers and acquisitions, as well as on the fiduciary rules governing transactions and relationships between financial firms and pension and retirement plans. Earlier in his career Mr. Stumpff served as an Assistant Branch Chief in the IRS Office of Chief Counsel's Employee Benefits and Exempt Organizations Division, where he helped oversee national employee benefits litigation. Currently he also teaches Employee Benefits and Executive Compensation at the University of Michigan Law School, and has published widely in the benefits field.
